

What can HBS do for you?

Architects - HBS can advise, source & supply increasingly desirable reclaimed architectural focal pieces or reclaimed materials in quantity with consistent quality. We can advise current market prices at the design stage to ensure sound decisions are made at the earliest opportunity.

If you have purchased items for previous jobs that have not been required HBS can purchase & remove these.

Builders or Property Developers - HBS can supply period building materials to site or for collection from our centrally located Lowestoft base. We can supply volume and small quantities, even single bricks & tiles. Additionally to enable you to ensure your costs are managed, HBS will also take back usable surplus materials from site further reducing waste costs. HBS will clear sites prior to demolition removing the valuable reclaimed materials and either purchase outright for cash or broker these materials on the open market to maximize revenue. HBS will clear old builders yards or warehouses and do likewise.

Property Maintenance & Letting Businesses - HBS will supply materials in small volumes to exactly suit your requirements - you do not have to buy full packs or pallets from us. Alongside our period building materials we also frequently offer nearly new 2nd hand materials to enable costs to be minimized in your running repairs or refurbishments. Furthermore HBS may be able to turn the items removed from your properties into usable funds.

Waste Management Services - HBS can liaise with you to ensure that valuable materials are not needlessly discarded and generate an additional cash flow in the process.

Pubs, Clubs and Restaurants - HBS can supply feature pieces or items of interest to ensure your establishments stands out from the crowd.

Homeowners & DIY Enthusiasts - HBS can offer friendly advice on all aspects of sourcing and using reclaimed materials calling on decades of personal experience to ensure you purchase exactly what you need, no more no less.

Farmers & Landowners - HBS can clear old barns of redundant and obsolete ironwork, machinery, hand tools and timber and convert them into cash.

We ship our products cost effectively all over the UK
